At all times the council must ensure that they adhere to the Equal Opportunities Policy adopted by the council.

Planning and preparation

Before beginning the recruitment process, the council should:

Consider the needs of the organisation to identify what staff resource is required, including identified future needs.

Assess whether any of the aims of the job have changed and how this may affect factors such as the skills required and working patterns.

Compile documents for the vacancy, including job description; person specification; application form; letter templates; contract of employment; any other supporting documents as appropriate.

Recruitment process

Vacancies will be advertised on the notice boards, website, Donyland Despatches newsletter and via the weekly e-bulletin initially.

Candidates will be shortlisted for interview against the person specification, and all applicants will receive written notification the outcome of their application, including those not shortlisted.

Candidates invited for interview will be asked whether they need any reasonable adjustments to be made.

A minimum of two persons will sit on the interview panel, which will normally comprise the Chairman of the Council, the Chairman of the Finance & Personnel Committee, and the Clerk if appropriate.

At the interview, candidates will be questioned using the same set criteria and questions. These will be formulated using the person specification for the role.

The panel will select the most suitable candidate for the position, based solely on the answers given to these questions and the information provided in their application form.

The successful applicant should be offered the post, pending any required reference checks and if accepted, a start date agreed. The contract of employment, and a copy of the staff handbook should be issued, signed and returned by the first day of their employment with the council.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES POLICY

Introduction

At East Donyland Parish Council we believe in the importance of providing equal opportunities to potential and existing employees and we aim to employ committed and motivated people who will help us to deliver excellent customer services and enhance the reputation of the Council.

Our policy is that we will not discriminate against the people we employ, or those people seeking employment with us, on the grounds of gender, gender re-assignment, sexual orientation, marital status, race/ethnicity, nationality, religion/beliefs, disabilities or age.

This document sets out our policy for equal opportunities within employment in more detail and must be strictly adhered to by all who are responsible for the recruitment, management of and day-to-day interaction with potential and existing employees.

Recruitment

In recruitment it is unlawful to discriminate by:

- Refusing to employ a person because of their gender, sexual orientation race/ethnicity, religion/beliefs, disabilities and/or age.
- Employing a person but on less favourable terms and conditions.
- Advertising in a discriminating fashion.
- Failing to promote, transfer or train because of a person's gender, sexual orientation, race/ethnicity, religion/beliefs, disabilities and/or age.

All vacancies must be advertised internally and externally concurrently. Advertisements which are placed externally should be aimed at and accessible to as many diverse communities as is practicably possible.

Every applicant for employment will be considered on the basis of their suitability for the position and ability to fulfil the requirements of the job. An applicant's gender, gender reassignment, sexual orientation, marital status, race/ethnicity, nationality, religion/beliefs, disabilities or age will not affect the decision of the recruitment panel.

The Council will liaise closely with the appropriate organisations on matters concerning applications from disabled applicants. We will consider reasonable adjustments and modifications to enable suitable applicants to carry out the duties of the post. Disability as defined by the Disability Discrimination Act 2005 is a person with a physical or mental impairment which has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on a person's ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities.

Councillors and all other Officers responsible for the appointment of staff will make every effort to avoid discrimination and will seek advice in the avoidance of discriminatory and biased assessment from a trained Clerk or the EALC. Records of all interviews will be kept by the Clerk for a period of at least three months.

Promotion and Training

Promotion will be based on ability and potential and all employees who apply for alternative (including higher graded) posts within the Council will be considered equally, objectively and without prejudice.

Councillors and Officers who are responsible for appraising employees will seek advice in the avoidance of discriminatory and biased assessment from a trained Clerk or the EALC.

The Council encourages all staff and Councillors to undertake further development opportunities relevant to their appointment. Opportunities to attend training courses will be provided to all employees and Councillors on an equal basis in accordance with the individual development needs that have been identified.

In the event of an employee becoming disabled either through injury or illness, the Council will make every effort to continue to employ that individual, either in the same or an equally suitable position. Arrangements for retraining the employee will be made where necessary.

Terms and Conditions of Service and Facilities

The Council will not discriminate on the basis of gender, gender reassignment, sexual orientation, marital status, race/ethnicity, nationality, religion/beliefs, disabilities or age in the provision of general employee facilities or benefits.

Monitoring

The Clerk & Chairman of the Finance & Personnel Committee will be responsible for monitoring the effectiveness of our equality and diversity policy in relation to employment.

All aspects of Human Resources policies and procedures shall be kept under review to ensure that they comply with the EDPC ethos of equal opportunities.

Review of Policy

This policy will be brought to the attention of every employee and will be reviewed at regular intervals by the Clerk & Finance & Personnel Committee Chairman.

Grievance

Employees who believe they have not been treated fairly within the scope of this policy should raise the matter through the Council's formal grievance procedure.

Discipline

All employees, Councillors and contractors of the Council are required to comply with this Equality and Diversity Policy and failure to do so may result in disciplinary action.

FLEXIBLE WORKING POLICY

This policy aims to encourage staff to consider flexible working arrangements. The council recognises that a better work-life balance can improve motivation, performance and productivity, and reduce stress. Therefore the council wants to support its employees to achieve the right balance between work and their other priorities, and is committed to flexible working arrangements that can meet the needs and objectives of both the organisation and the employee.

Types of flexible working

Flexible working arrangements that the council will consider include:

Flexitime – an agreed number of hours to be worked within an accounting period (e.g. 80 hours within 4 weeks), with agreed core times to be worked within that period (e.g. to cover the office opening hours). Employees may carry over an excess or deficit of hours to the next, subject to a maximum amount agreed by the council.

Home working – part of an employee's hours may be worked from home rather than council premises. This may be agreed as a regular arrangement or an occasional basis.

Overtime – where the council would benefit from an employee working hours in addition to their agreed contract, overtime hours may be agreed and paid at an agreed rate. This is voluntary and an employee can refuse overtime if they wish.

Other flexible arrangements which the council may consider if requested include annualised hours, compressed hours, job sharing and term time working.

Needs of the organisation

The council is committed to providing appropriate working patterns; however employees and councillors need to be realistic and to recognise that not all flexible working options will be suitable for all roles. The following criteria need to be taken into consideration:

- The costs associated with the proposed arrangement
- The effect of the proposed arrangement on other staff
- The need for, and effect on, supervision
- The availability of staff resources
- Details of the tasks and workload specific to the role
- Health and safety issues
- Whether it is a request for a reasonable adjustment related to a disability

Eligibility

Any employee with at least 26 weeks of employment service has a statutory right to request flexible working. An employee is entitled to submit one flexible working request in a 12 month period, and requests should be made in writing to the Chairman of the Finance & Personnel Committee.

Process

On receipt of a flexible working request, the Chairman or Vice Chair of the Finance & Personnel Committee will usually seek a meeting with the individual to discuss the request and obtain more information about the proposed arrangement. This meeting should be held within 2 weeks of receipt of the request, but this time limit may be extended by agreement of both parties.

The Finance & Personnel Committee will then consider the proposed arrangements, looking at the potential benefits and adverse effects to both the employee and the council.

The employee will be informed in writing of the decision as soon as is practicable, within 2 weeks of the decision being made.

New working arrangements

Where new flexible working arrangements are introduced, a trial period may be agreed. The council will allow sufficient time for the practices to be implemented and trialled before taking final decisions on the viability of the arrangement.

Where a permanent change is agreed, a variation will need to be made to the employee's contract. A new contract should be prepared and signed within 28 days of the agreement.

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT

Staff are expected to conduct themselves in a professional manner at all times, and to work to the best of their ability for the benefit of the council. The Nolan principles apply to employees as well as councillors, and can be summarised as follows:

- Selflessness: decisions should be based solely on the council's best interests
- Integrity: staff should not place themselves in a situation where an individual or organisation can influence them in their work for the council
- Objectivity: staff should act impartially, fairly and decisions should be based on merit
- Accountability: staff are accountable to the council as their employer
- Openness: actions and decisions should be open and transparent, and information not restricted unless clearly required by council policy or law
- Honesty: staff have a duty to declare any interests which might affect their work for the council
- Leadership: managers should promote and support these principles by leadership and example

Appearance

Staff are expected to dress appropriately at all times in relation to their role and to ensure that their personal appearance is clean and tidy.

EDPC premises

Staff will be issued with a key to EDPC facilities as needed. Loss of any keys must be reported to the Clerk or Chairman immediately.

Staff are responsible for any visitors to the office, and ensuring that they are appropriately monitored during their visit.

Staff must not remove EDPC property from the premises without prior authority from the Clerk or Chairman.

Personal property

Any personal property left in the council office is done so entirely at your own risk. Staff are advised not to leave any valuables unattended and EDPC do not accept liability for any loss or damage to personal property.

Telephone, computer, email and internet use

Staff should make themselves familiar with EDPC's IT Policy and adhere to it.

Company telephones should not be used for private purposes except in emergencies or with permission from the Clerk or Chairman.

IT facilities are provided for the sole purpose of carrying out work activities. Limited personal use of email facilities and the internet are permitted in the workplace provided that it does not interfere with performance or completion of work. Accessing, downloading or sending offensive, illegal, obscene material is not permitted and may constitute gross misconduct.

Staff must not download unauthorised software or store personal data on council laptops.

Gifts

Staff may not accept gifts from suppliers, contractors or anyone else doing business with the parish council except where they are of minor value and are usually accepted business practice, e.g. a desk calendar. Gifts include money, goods, services, discounts and any other special considerations of value.

Bribery & corruption

It is a serious criminal offence to corruptly give or receive any gift, favour, reward or advantage to/from an individual or organisation in connection with the work of the council, or similarly to disfavour or disadvantage any individual or organisation.

Use of resources

The council serves the public and staff should remember this principle when using council equipment, materials and resources in order to ensure value for money.

Confidentiality

Staff must not divulge any confidential information gained during the course of their work regarding other employees, councillors, organisations, members of the public, or the business and operation of the council.

Staff must take care of files, papers etc and ensure that all documents are stored and secured appropriately in line with council policies and procedures.

STAFF DEVELOPMENT & PERFORMANCE MANAGEMENT POLICY

Following completion of any induction and probation period, all staff will be participate in annual personal development reviews, to review progress and performance, identify areas for further development and discuss any other issues related to their employment.

This framework provides the council and employees with regular opportunities to give feedback and address any development needs. However, the council aims to foster a culture that welcomes and promotes feedback and development opportunities at all times. It is therefore important that any concerns regarding performance, working arrangements etc are addressed at the time they arise, and are not postponed until the formal review. The Chairman and Vice Chair of the Finance & Personnel Committee will act as the first point of contact for staff and councillors to highlight any issues that need to be addressed.

These issues should be resolved informally wherever possible, with clear, honest and open communication to identify what can be improved and how. Where performance management fails to resolve the issue, the discipline and grievance procedures should be used as appropriate, e.g. with regard to capability, misconduct, bullying or harassment.

Staff Personal Development Reviews (PDRs)

Why undertake staff development reviews?

By reviewing performance and job progress, staff are able to prioritise, improve work planning and establish personal development and career plans. This should lead to improved working arrangements, increased job satisfaction, and appropriate staff training. Development review is therefore a continuous process, which also links to line management/supervision.

Objectives of PDR

- a) to review past performance and progress within a twelve month period on annual basis.
- b) to discuss employees' strengths and weaknesses – areas of development and strategies to achieve them.
- c) to discuss specific working arrangements and make any necessary changes to enable staff to do their jobs more effectively
- d) to discuss any barriers or problems and to look at solutions.
- e) to recognise personal achievements (performance that the employee is extremely pleased with)
- f) review last year's objectives (if applicable)
- g) to agree performance objectives (tasks/actions) for the next twelve months
- h) to identify training and development needs in relation to current job and future jobs.
- i) to increase staff motivation and improve communication

The Process

- a) Set a date, time and venue to include a time limit.
- b) The job description and supporting documents should be included and considered, also line management notes need to be considered. (Any changes or amendments to job description after appraisal to be considered by Finance & Personnel Committee for recommendation to Full Council)
- c) For the meeting, ensure comfortable surroundings, free from interruptions and distractions.

Staff Review (employer)

The person carrying out the appraisal should consider the following:

- a) What are the employee's main tasks and responsibilities?

- b) What evidence do I have to support my view of the employee's performance?
- c) What obstacles or problems may have hindered the employee and how might I be able to help in the future?
- d) Have I organised the work of staff in a logical and effective manner?
- e) What are the main objectives I wish to set for the future?
- f) Can I prioritise the objectives to assist in focussing efforts?
- g) What action and support is required to enable these objectives to be achieved within the agreed time scale?

Self Review (employee)

To ensure that these discussions are two-way, it is suggested that employees carry out their own review of their performance in the previous twelve months using the following areas as a guide:

- a) Do you feel your job description is relevant?
- b) Which aspects of your work do you feel especially pleased with?
- c) Which aspects of your job have not gone as well as you would have hoped?
- d) Are there any constraints or difficulties you are working under?
- e) In what ways would you hope to develop your experience and strengthen your expertise both in the coming year and in the long term?

The PDR process consists of three main stages. Each of these stages relates to different parts of the PDR documentation:

Stage 1	Preparation for the Review	Employee and employer each to complete individual preparation form (links to employee's job description)

DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURE

INTRODUCTION

EDPC's aim is to encourage improvement in individual conduct and performance. This procedure sets out the action which will be taken when a member of staff fails to meet the council's standards of conduct and provides a fair, effective and consistent method of dealing with disciplinary matters.

The procedure is designed not as a dismissal procedure but as a means of encouraging employees to conform to acceptable standards.

Employees are expected to know the standard of conduct expected of them. The standards are laid out in the Staff Handbook, provided to all employees. Examples of misconduct that may lead to disciplinary procedures include but are not limited to:

- Unsatisfactory time keeping.
- Absenteeism, including any absence from work during a working day without prior authorisation or instruction.
- Failure to comply with rules and regulations applicable to job requirements.
- Failure by an employee to perform the duties and responsibilities of his or her post to the standard expected by the council.

INFORMAL DISCUSSIONS

Before taking formal disciplinary action, the line manager or Chairman of the Finance & Personnel Committee will make every effort to resolve the matter by informal discussion with the member of staff concerned. Only where this fails to bring about the desired improvement should the formal disciplinary procedure be implemented.

VERBAL WARNINGS

Where informal discussions do not resolve the issue, a verbal warning will be issued in instances of general misconduct. If the employee is given a verbal warning he or she will be warned of the likely consequences of any further disciplinary offences or a failure to improve his or her conduct to the satisfaction of the council. A note confirming the verbal warning will be placed on the employees personnel file and a copy will be provided to the employee. A verbal warning will normally remain in force for 6 months.

The verbal warning stage of the procedure may be omitted if the offence is of a sufficiently serious nature.

FIRST WRITTEN WARNING

In the case of a serious offence or repetition of an earlier minor offence the employee will normally be given a First Written Warning. A First Written Warning will be issued by the Chair of the Finance and Personnel Committee and will set out:

- the nature of the offence and the improvement required (if appropriate) and over what period
- the likely consequences of any further offence or failure by the employee to improve his/her conduct to an acceptable standard
- that further offences will result in more serious disciplinary action
- the employee's right of appeal

A First Written Warning will normally remain in force for 6 months.

The First Written Warning stage of the procedure may be omitted if the offence is of a sufficiently serious nature.

FINAL WRITTEN WARNING

If further misconduct occurs within the time period specified in a First Written Warning, or if the misconduct is sufficiently serious the employee will be given a Final Written Warning. A Final Written Warning will be issued by the Chair of the Finance and Personnel Committee and will set out:

- the nature of the offence and the improvement required (if appropriate) and over what period
- the likely consequences of any further offence or a failure by the employee to improve his/her conduct to an acceptable standard
- that further offences will result in more serious disciplinary action up to and including dismissal
- the employees right of appeal

Final Written Warnings may also be issued in circumstances where the misconduct does not amount to gross misconduct, but is sufficiently serious enough to warrant only one written warning.

A Final Written Warning will normally remain in force for 12 months.

STANDARD COUNCIL DISCIPLINARY PROCEDURE

In the case of further misconduct within the time period specified in any Final Written Warning or if the misconduct is sufficiently serious and the council deems it to be appropriate to contemplate the dismissal, demotion or suspension (without pay) of the employee the following formal disciplinary procedure will be followed.

The Chairman and/or vice-Chairman of the Finance & Personnel Committee and one other Councillor will investigate the alleged misconduct and will establish the facts surrounding the complaint as necessary, taking into account the statements of any available witnesses.

The Council will set out in writing the alleged mis-conduct or other circumstances which lead the Council to contemplate dismissing the employee or taking disciplinary action against the employee and the basis for the allegation and will send the employee a copy of the statement inviting the employee to attend a disciplinary meeting to discuss the matter. The employee will be provided with a reasonable opportunity to consider his or her response to the information provided in the statement before attending the meeting. The employee must take all reasonable steps to attend the meeting.

Disciplinary meetings will normally be convened within 5 working days of the council sending the employee the written statement. The employee may be accompanied to any disciplinary meeting by a fellow employee or by a representative of a trade union. The Council will be represented by the Chairman or vice-Chairman of the Finance and Personnel Committee plus one other Councillor, hereafter known as the Disciplinary Committee.

If the time or date proposed for the meeting is inconvenient (either for the employee or for the employee's companion should he or she wish to be accompanied to the meeting) the employee may ask to postpone the meeting by up to 5 working days.

The meeting may be adjourned to allow matters raised during the course of the meeting to be investigated, or to afford the Disciplinary Committee time to consider their decision.

After the meeting the Council will inform the employee of their decision and any applicable sanction within 5 working days. The meeting may be reconvened for this purpose. The decision will be confirmed to the employee in writing.

If the employee wishes to appeal against the decision he or she must notify the council in writing within 5 days of receiving written notice of the decision.

If the employee notifies the Council that he or she wishes to appeal, the employee will be invited to attend a disciplinary appeal meeting. The employee must take all reasonable steps to attend that disciplinary appeal meeting. The employee has the right to be accompanied to a disciplinary appeal meeting by a fellow employee or by a representative of a trade union.

A disciplinary appeal meeting will normally be convened within 7 working days of the council receiving notification that the employee wishes to appeal. If the meeting date is inconvenient for the employee or the employee's companion he or she may ask to postpone the meeting by up to 5 working days.

- Any new evidence that the employee wishes to put forward will be considered, as will any new evidence from the council. The original disciplinary penalty will be reviewed.
- The disciplinary appeal sanction originally imposed cannot be increased upon appeal.
- The disciplinary appeal meeting will not necessarily take place before any disciplinary sanction imposed by the council takes effect. If the employee's appeal is against dismissal and the appeal is successful the employee will be reinstated and continuity of employment will be preserved.
- The meeting may be adjourned to allow matters raised during the course of the meeting to be investigated, or to afford the Council's Finance & Personnel Committee time to consider its decision.

After the disciplinary appeal meeting the council will inform the employee of its final decision within 5 working days. The meeting may be reconvened for this purpose. The decision will be confirmed to the employee in writing.

COUNCIL DISMISSAL PROCEDURE FOR USE IN GROSS MISCONDUCT

An employee can be dismissed without notice on grounds of gross misconduct. The employee will be suspended with pay while the circumstances of the alleged incident are investigated. Such a period of time will not normally exceed 10 working days unless there are exceptional circumstances.

The following are examples of behaviour that may constitute gross misconduct in the workplace:

- Refusal or repeated failure by an employee to carry out his or her duties.
- Falsification of documents or information (including expense claims)
- Unauthorised disclosure of confidential information
- Assaulting a fellow employee, councillor or any other person
- Insulting, indecent or offensive behaviour towards a fellow employee, councillor or any other person

- Wilful damage to council property
- Theft, unauthorised use or possession of Council property or property of a fellow employee
- Conduct bringing the Council into disrepute.

The Council will investigate the matter and will establish the facts surrounding the complaint as necessary, taking into account the statements of any available witnesses. As part of that investigation the employee will be interviewed.

If the Council believes the employee is guilty of gross misconduct his or her employment will be terminated summarily without notice or pay in lieu of notice. A dismissal must be confirmed in writing within 10 working days of the date of the disciplinary interview.

The Council will send the employee a statement, setting out the allegations of misconduct that led to the employee's dismissal and the council's basis for thinking that the employee is guilty of that misconduct. The date on which the employment terminated will be confirmed to the employee and the employee may be reminded of any continuing obligations he or she may have following the termination of employment. This statement will also explain the employee's right to appeal against the council's decision.

If the employee wishes to appeal against the Council's decision he or she must notify the council in writing within 5 working days of receiving notice of the Council's decision.

If the employee appeals the Council will invite the employee to attend a disciplinary appeal meeting before the Council's Finance & Personnel Committee. The employee must take all reasonable steps to attend the meeting. The employee has the right to be accompanied to a disciplinary appeal meeting by a fellow employee or by a representative of a trade union.

Any disciplinary appeal meeting will normally be convened within 7 working days of the Council receiving notice from the employee that he or she wishes to appeal. If the date of the meeting is inconvenient for the employee or his or her companion the employee may ask to postpone the meeting by up to 5 working days.

- Any new evidence that the employee wishes to put forward will be considered as will any new evidence from the Council. The original disciplinary penalty will be reviewed.
- The disciplinary sanction originally imposed cannot be increased upon appeal.
- The disciplinary appeal meeting will not necessarily take place before any disciplinary sanction imposed by the council takes effect. If the employee's appeal is against dismissal and the appeal is successful he or she will be reinstated and continuity of employment will be preserved.
- The meeting may be adjourned to allow matters raised during the course of the meeting to be investigated, or to afford the Finance and Personnel Committee time to consider its decision.

After the disciplinary appeal meeting the employee will be informed of the Council's final decision within 5 working days the meeting may be reconvened for this purpose. The council's decision will be confirmed to the employee in writing.

If the ex-employee does not agree to the matter being dealt with by correspondence within 7 working days of the council writing to them in accordance with the standard council grievance procedure. The meeting will be conducted by the Council's Finance & Personnel Committee.

BULLYING AND HARASSMENT POLICY

East Donyland Parish Council is committed to provide an environment free from harassment and hostility and will not tolerate bullying and harassment of any kind, whether it be aimed at the public by employees or councillors, or at employees or Councillors by each other or members of the public.

Definitions

Bullying is defined by the council as offensive, intimidating, malicious or insulting behaviour, an abuse or misuse of power through means that undermine, humiliate, denigrate or injure the recipient.

Harassment is defined as unwanted conduct related to a relevant protected characteristic, which has the purpose or effect of violating an individual's dignity or creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for that individual.

The Equality Act 2010 defines the protected characteristics as:

- age
- disability
- gender reassignment
- marriage and civil partnership
- pregnancy and maternity
- race
- religion or belief
- sex
- sexual orientation

Examples of unacceptable bullying behaviour include:

- Spreading malicious rumours, or insulting someone (particularly on the grounds of age, race, sex, disability, sexual orientation and religion or belief)
- Copying emails that are critical about someone to others who do not need to know
- Ridiculing or demeaning someone – picking on them or setting them up to fail
- Exclusion or victimisation
- Unfair treatment
- Overbearing supervision or other misuse of power or position
- Unwelcome sexual advances
- Making threats or comments about job security without foundation
- Deliberate undermining a competent worker by overloading and constant criticism
- Preventing individuals progressing by intentionally blocking promotion or training opportunities

Bullying and harassment are not necessarily face to face, they may be by written communication, images, emails, phone etc.

Procedure

Incidences of bullying and harassment will be dealt with through the council's grievance and disciplinary procedures. Staff should report any incidents to the Clerk or Chairman of the Finance & Personnel Committee who will activate the procedure.

Reports of bullying or harassment will be dealt with promptly and in a fair, confidential and sensitive manner. The Council may decide to investigate potentially offensive behaviour of their own volition even when a member of staff has not made a formal complaint of such behaviour.

Outcomes

Where the decision maker decides the behaviour is not harassment, bullying or discrimination feedback should be given to the complainant as to why this decision was made.

Where the decision maker decides the behaviour is harassment, bullying and/or discrimination, they may:

- Take disciplinary action against a Councillor or employee
- Recommend to the council an employee is suspended
- Write to a member of the public saying their behaviour is unacceptable and asking them
 - Not to attend the council office in future
 - That all communication with the council should go through the chairman rather than employees
- Any other action deemed appropriate
- Recommend to the council a member of the public is excluded from council meetings
- Apply for an order to give legal force to any of the above

Where the decision maker decides illegal harassment has taken place in breach of the Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994 or the Protection from Harassment Act 1997 the matter should, with the complainant's permission, be referred to the police.

ALCOHOL & DRUG POLICY

This is a policy designed to help protect workers from the dangers of alcohol, drug and other substance abuse and to encourage those with an alcohol or drugs problem to seek help. The policy applies to everyone in the organisation.

The rules:

- Employees may not be under the influence of alcohol while at work and are not permitted to consume alcohol while working.
- Employees may use prescribed medication and over the counter medication as appropriate to treat a health condition while at work provided that it does not impair their performance. No other drugs or substances may be consumed and employees must not work while under the influence of drugs.
- Alcohol consumption and drug misuse may be treated as gross misconduct and lead to termination of employment.

The rules on alcohol and drugs at work will apply to any contractors visiting the organisation.

EDPC recognise that an alcohol or drugs problem may be an illness to be treated in the same way as any other illness. In instances of misconduct where a drugs or alcohol problem is a factor the council may agree to suspend disciplinary action, on condition that the employee concerned follows a suitable course of action. Where gross misconduct is involved, any alcohol or drugs problem may be taken into account in determining disciplinary action.

WHISTLEBLOWING POLICY

Whistleblowing is reporting certain types of wrongdoing in the workplace. The wrongdoing disclosed must be in the public interest; examples include:

- A criminal offence e.g. fraud
- Someone's health or safety is in danger
- Risk or actual damage to the environment
- A miscarriage of justice
- The council is breaking the law e.g. doesn't have the right insurance

Personal grievances (e.g. bullying, harassment, discrimination) aren't generally covered by whistleblowing law and should be addressed using the council's grievance procedure.

Staff can report wrongdoing that has already happened, is currently happening or they believe will happen in the near future. Incidents should be reported to the Clerk, Chairman of the Council, or to the CBC Monitoring Officer as appropriate, dependent on the individuals believed to be involved.
